DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 12-25, drawn to a method of hydroforming with a mandrel.

Group II, claim(s) 27-39, drawn to a method of hydroforming within a bell.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

3. Looking at the claims a priori, both groups teach a method of hydroforming including forming a tubular member against the inner surface of a mold by applying fluid pressure to the tubular member as taught by Hollerith et al. (US Patent No. 349,718). However, Group I includes a mandrel inserted into and sealing the tubular member between the mandrel and the mold members which is not explicitly taught by Hollerith and not required by the claims of Group II rendering the mandrel structure a special technical feature, while Group II contains a bell member in which the plurality of mold elements are contained during hydroforming and subsequently removed with the formed tubular member from the bell member prior to removing the tubular member from the mold members which is not explicitly taught by Hollerith and not required by the claims of Group I rendering the bell structure a special technical feature. Therefore, an a posteriori determination can be made that the claims lack unity of invention because the hydroforming technique, as shown by Hollerith, is not a special technical feature.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
